The Center for Cultural Innovation Announces Grants to 23 California Visual, Craft and Literary Artists

The Center for Cultural Innovation (CCI) today announced twenty-three recipients in the Visual Arts, Craft and Literary Arts round of funding under its Investing in Artists grants program, which is designed to build the personal and creative capacity of California's artists working in all disciplines.

The Investing in Artists grants program was established by the Center for Cultural Innovation (CCI) in 2007 to enhance the working lives and strengthen the creative support system for California artists working in all disciplines. Since that time, with the support of The James Irvine Foundation and The William and Flora Hewlett Foundation, CCI has awarded $1.77 million to 237 diverse artists working in various disciplines across the state.

The 2013 Visual Arts, Craft and Literary Arts Round of the Investing in Artists grants program provides support to individual artists in two categories: 1) for the acquisition of Artistic Equipment & Tools; and 2) for Artistic Innovation.

In the Artistic Equipment & Tools category, the following twelve (12) artists received Investing in Artists grants:

- Julie Alland (Visual Arts, San Francisco)
- Dave Bailey (Visual Arts, Van Nuys)
- Bonnie Begusch (Visual Arts, Berkeley)
- Matt Black (Photography, Exeter)
- Marion Coleman (Crafts, Castro Valley)
- Bill Geisinger (Crafts, Sebastopol)
- Joyce Hsu (Visual Arts, Oakland)
- Nick Lally (Multidisciplinary, Oakland)
- Jennifer Reifsneider (Visual Arts, Burbank)
- May Wilson (Crafts, Davis)
- Michiko Yao (Visual Arts, Los Angeles)
- Rene Yung (Multidisciplinary, San Francisco)
